

Dave Sperling's experience features more than twenty-five years as Director of Photography for both film and video productions. His credits include more than a dozen feature films, the award-winning television series Remember WENN, for which Dave was awarded the Cable ACE Award for Cinematography, Mathnet (Emmy Award Nomination) and numerous commercials and documentaries, including the Peabody and Emmy award winning Billy Strayhorn: A Lush Life (PBS). Dave is a member of the Academy of Television Arts & Sciences, and often speaks at conferences and seminars as a member of the Sony ICE (Independent Certified Experts) Team. A graduate of the NYU Graduate Institute of Film and Television, he is also the creator of the OnSet Software computer programs for theatre and film. Dave recently developed an online course on the Principles of Cinematography in conjunction with the Mason Gross School of the Arts at Rutgers University, as well as teaching the Electronic Cinematography class at NYU/Tisch.